At KIRKLAND CHILDREN'S DENTISTRY, we believe in fairytales. But we also believe that hard work pays off. We also understand that oral health success extends far beyond going to the dentist a couple times a year...and it starts with us being here as a resource for you.

We believe that those early dental visits shape a child's future attitude towards dentistry. If we can provide positive experiences in the beginning, and present dentistry to children in ways that are easy to understand, we can reduce or eliminate any dental anxiety. We know we have done our job well when we hear kids say they're excited to come back!

We have received special training in pediatrics to be able to give you insight into what to anticipate for your child's oral growth and development. Additionally, our training in behavior management and sedation gives us the tools to treat children with special behavioral or medical conditions. This means we are able to tailor our treatment approach specifically to what your child needs.

Dental education and prevention is our passion. As we cultivate good oral hygiene in one child, an amazing phenomenon happens as awareness spreads to the whole family, resulting in better oral health for everyone! When a child is taught and empowered to take proper care of the teeth and gums, being cavity-free for a lifetime is actually possible.

Knowing this, we gladly offer our tips and tricks to make caring for your child's teeth easier. Our goal is to partner with you as a resource for all things dental. Questions? You can always drop by, email, or call, and we'll be happy to answer!

STUDIO EAST Training for the Performing Arts was founded in 1992 to provide theater arts education for children on the Eastside. Starting with one theater program for teens in 1992, Studio East has become one of the largest children's theater training programs in the Seattle area. Today, Studio East serves over 70,000 people annually with a comprehensive program of drama classes, theater arts camps, and Mainstage productions for children from ages 3 through 19. Studio East also produces StoryBook Theater, an adult professional touring troupe that introduces young children to live theater at venues throughout the Puget Sound area.
